WILLIAM CHASE,

WHO CAME TO AMERICA IN 1630, AND DIED IN YARMOUTH,

MASSACHUSETTS, MAY, 1659.

WASHINGTON, D. C.
1886.

INTRODUCTION.

The CHASE families in the United States are nearly all descended from the following namely :

WILLIAM CHASE, who came to America in 1630, and died in Yarmouth, Massachusetts, May, 1659.

THOMAS CHASE, who settled at Hampton, N. H., 1639, and died there about 1652.

AQUILA CHASE, (brother of Thomas,) who settled at Hampton, N. H., 1639. He removed to Newbury, Massachusetts, about 1646, and died there, December 27, 1670.

THE object of the present work is to give a brief account of some of the descendants of WILLIAM CHASE, and especially of the Rhode Island branches of the family.

The plan adopted is believed to be so simple as to require no explanation.

CHASE GENEALOGY.

1. WILLIAM CHASE was born in England, about the year 1595, and came to America in 1630, in the fleet which brought Governor Winthrop and his colony. He soon after became a member of the first church in Roxbury, Mass.,* of which the Rev. John Eliot ("the Apostle to the Indians,") was pastor. On the records of the church is the following :

"William Chase, he came with the first company, bringing with him his wife Mary and his son William."

* * * It is further stated that his wife was an invalid for several years, but finally regained her health and bore other children.

October 19, 1630, he applied for admission as a freeman, and on May 14, 1634, he took the freeman's oath. About 1638, he left Roxbury, and joined a company who made a new settlement at Yarmouth, Mass. At that place, in 1639, he was appointed constable, and continued to reside there until his death, which occurred between May 4 and 13, 1659. His widow was found dead in October of the same year, and a coroner's inquest being held, it was decided that she died a natural death.

73. AARON CHASE<sup>s</sup> (James<sup>s</sup>, Isaac<sup>s</sup>, William<sup>s</sup>) born ..... married..... Elizabeth, daughter of ..... Perry. He resided at Portsmouth, R. I.

During the revolutionary war, while Rhode Island was occupied by British troops, Aaron Chase's family with others, were driven from their homes by the British soldiers, their houses and farm buildings burned, and their property destroyed.

His son, Darius, a lad perhaps 12 or 14 years old, was escaping with others and had a shot gun which he was trying to save from the general destruction. They were fired upon by some of the soldiers, and he was killed. This is an example of the outrages perpetrated by the British, and by their tory allies, throughout the entire struggle for independence.

His disease soon assumed the form of a malignant fever, and terminated his life January 31, 1831, at the age of 44 years. His widow survived him many years, closing her long and useful life October 23, 1870. aged 81 years. They are both buried on the farm now owned and occupied by their oldest son, Daniel Chase, Middletown, R. I.

* This Daniel Gould was a descendant of Daniel Gould, who was one of the first Quaker preachers in this country, and who was scourged on Boston Common, by the bigoted Puritans, on account of his religious opinions. He was also a descendant of Major John Mason, the "conqueror of the Pequots," who was prominent in civil and military affairs in the early colonial history of Connecticut. Another one of Daniel Gould's ancestors was John Brown, senior, who was one of the most prominent men in the Plymouth colony.

APPENDIX.

Since the first part of these reminiscences was published we have had many inquiries about the "Chase fortune, in England." No! No!! No!!! There is no fortune there for us; it is a myth and a lie that has been and is now being worked by designing men, from time to time, to swindle the descendants of old colonial families in the United States. We have known of them for the last forty years, and it would appear that they do not die young, for the scheme has been recently worked quite industriously, and with such success with the credulous that circulars are now being sent out soliciting more money to send an attorney to England to prosecute claims, &c.

Hon. E. J. Phelps, late American Minister to England, received so many inquiries regarding these pretended American claims on English property that he issued a circular, in which he said: "they are carried on with such persistency and ingenuity, by the men engaged in it, that I despair of being able to make their credulous victims understand what an utter imposture and delusion the whole business is."
